Information on Guadalajara:

Guadalajara is blessed with one of the world's great climates. Summer and winter both are usually very mild. The climate here has been described as "near perfect" by more than one journalist and is much of the attraction to so many foreign residents. Afternoon rains come during the summer months from June to September with July and August being the months with the most rain. Usually the rain lasts for a few hours after which the air is much cleaner.

Information on Guadalajara’s Cathedral:

The twin steeples of the cathedral serve as an excellent starting point to explore the city center plazas and monuments. The cathedral, dedicated to the Virgin of the Assumption when it was begun in 1561, was finished about 30 years later. A potpourri of styles- Moorish, Gothic, Renaissance and Classic make up its spires, arches and facades. Although an earthquake demolished its steeples in 1818, they were rebuilt and resurfaced with cheery canary yellow tiles in 1854.
